The Quaran or Qur’an – Here we have two of the most important and widespread free translations of the Quaran or Quran in English (sometimes also spelled The Kuran). All are suitable for reading on both mobile devices and/or on your computer. According to Islam, the Quran was revealed in the so-called Qur’anic revelation to Muhammed during the Ramadan in 610 AD. These PDF Quaran versions are free to download and share. Please visit our Islam section for more: . From the Quran: 174. Verily, those who conceal what Allah has sent down of the Book, and purchase a small gain therewith (of worldly things), they eat into their bellies nothing but fire. Allah will not speak to them on the Day of Resurrection, nor purify them, and theirs will be a painful torment. 175. Those are they who have purchased error at the price of Guidance, and torment at the price of Forgiveness. So how bold they are (for evil deeds which will push them) to the Fire. The Qur'an is the verbal divine guidance and moral direction for mankind and the final revelation of God! The final Testament! The Qur'an was repeatedly revealed from Allah (God) to Muhammad (pbuh) verbally through the Arch Angel Jibril (Gabriel) over a period of approximately twenty-three years, beginning in 610 CE, when he was forty, and concluding in 632 CE, the year of his death. The Qur'an was memorized, recited and written down by Muhammad's (pbuh) companions after every revelation dictated by Muhammad. Most of Muhammad's (pbuh) tens of thousands of companions, called Sahabas, learned the Qur'an by heart and repeatedly recited in front of Muhammad (pbuh) for his approval or the approval of other Sahabas. Muhammad approved these recitations and also compiled the Qur'an in written form while he was alive. The Qur'an is the main miracle of Muhammad (pbuh), as proof of his prophethood, and as the culmination of a series of divine messages. These started with the messages revealed to Adam, the first prophet, and continued with the Suhuf Ibrahim (Scrolls of Abraham), the Tawrat (Torah) of Moses, the Zabur (Tehillim or Book of Psalms) of David, and the Injil (Gospel) of Jesus. The Qur'an assumes familiarity with major narratives recounted in Jewish and Christian scriptures, summarizing some, dwelling at length on others, and, in some cases, presenting alternative accounts and interpretations of events. The Qur'an is a book of divine guidance and direction for humanity and its text is in its original Arabic form. The Qur'an is the literal word of God, revealed to Muhammad (pbuh) through the Angel Gabriel. The text of the Qur'an consists of 114 chapters of varying lengths, each known as a sura. Chapters are classed as Meccan or Medinan, depending on when (before or after Hijra) the verses were revealed. Chapter titles are derived from a name or quality discussed in the text, or from the first letters or words of the sura. Muhammad (pbuh), on God's command, gave the chapters their names. Generally, longer chapters appear earlier in the Qur'an, while the shorter ones appear later. The chapter arrangement is thus not connected to the sequence of revelation. Each sura except the ninth starts with Bismillah, an Arabic phrase meaning ("In the name of God, Most Gracious, Most Merciful"). There are, however, still 114 occurrences of Bismillah in the Qur'an, due to its presence in verse 27:30 as the opening of Solomon's letter to the Queen of Sheba. Each sura is formed from several ayat (verses), which originally means a sign or portent sent by God. The number of verses differ from chapter to chapter. An individual verse may be just a few letters or several lines. The verses are unlike the highly refined poetry of the pre-Islamic Arabs in their content and distinctive rhymes and rhythms, being more akin to the prophetic utterances marked by inspired discontinuities found in the sacred scriptures of Judaism and Christianity. There is a crosscutting division into 30 parts of roughly equal division, ajza, each containing two units called ahzab, each of which is divided into four parts (rub 'al-ahzab). The Qur'an is also divided into seven approximately equal parts, manazil, for it to be recited in a week. The Qur'an speaks well of the relationship it has with former books (the Torah and the Gospel) and attributes their similarities to their unique origin and saying all of them have been revealed by the one God. A text string may contain spaces (e.g. People of the Book). Multiple strings may be specified by using ampersand (&). The strings Jews&Christians will locate verses containing both these words. If you search for a single text string, it must be at least four characters long. However, if you search for multiple strings then only one of them needs to be at least four characters long. This search also reports the occurrence of strings within words. So searching for believe will also find believed, disbelieve etc. (This has both drawbacks and advantages.) The Bismillah verse, “In the name of Allah, the Beneficent, the Merciful”, is not included in the search. The only non-keyboard characters in the translation are these three: ’ ’ and — The first one (’) is used as apostrophe (as in Pharaoh’s), and it is used three times in transliteration (see list below). The second one (’) is used in transliteration (see list below). The third one is only a punctuation mark (the dash). To enter any of these non-keyboard characters into the search box, you can highlight, copy and paste it from these instructions. Given below is a list of all the words (some of which occur several times in the translation) containing these characters as marks of transliteration: sa’ibah Saba’ Ra’í-na ‘Arafat Ka’bah ‘Ad Shu’aib Ba’l Tubba’ ‘Uzza Suwa’ Ya’uq The Qu´ran – a modern English translation as a free PDF e-book. Here is a new translation of the Quran by Talal Itani, who kindly offered Holybooks.com to post it as an ebook. Talal Itani first read the Quran 1992, in order to discredit it. Since then, Talal has been studying the Quran, researching it, and teaching it to others. Talal decided to translate the Quran when he gave up all hope of finding an English Translation that is at the same time highly accurate, and very easy to read. This is the result. We have several other translations of the Quran, this one though is recommended for new readers. A verse from the Quran “When you read the Quran, seek refuge with God from Satan the outcast. He has no authority over those who believe and trust in their Lord. His authority is only over those who follow him, and those who associate others with Him.” – Verses 16:98-100 About the Translator of the Quran Talal Itani is an Electronics Engineer.
